

HealthSphere.net Corporation
Privacy Policy
Effective Date: Aug 2015

HealthSphere.net Corporation (“HealthSphere”) has implemented the following Privacy Policy because we are committed to the protection of our customers’ privacy. This Privacy Policy applies to the information we collect from our customers at healthsphere.com (the “Site”) in connection with the information we provide and the additional information our customers may opt to receive. Most of the content HealthSphere provides on the Site, however, can be viewed anonymously. This Privacy Policy discloses our practice with respect to the collection and subsequent use of our customers’ personal information. This Policy does not apply to the practices of companies that HealthSphere does not own or control, or to people that HealthSphere does not employ or manage.

Information Collection and Use

We do not collect personal information about you unless you choose to provide that information to us or you choose to receive information from this Site where gathering personal information is necessary in order to deliver the specific item or information requested. If you voluntarily elect to receive email alerts, or if you choose to submit an information request or literature request, we may collect the following categories of personal information: your name, mailing address, phone number, credit card information or other information. In addition, if you voluntarily choose to submit a question to HealthSphere through the “contact us” portion of the Site, we may collect your name, email address, and phone number as well as any additional information you may wish to provide in the subject and comments portion of the form. The personal information we collect from you will be used by HealthSphere and its subsidiaries to provide the information or carry out the transaction you have requested or authorized. In addition, HealthSphere may share or transfer information about you that you have provided to HealthSphere to one or more third party entities pursuant to a sale, merger, assignment, joint venture or other transfer or disposition of a portion, or all of, the assets or stock of HealthSphere.

In some instances we may include certain links in our e-mails that will allow us to monitor whether you accessed specific content in that e-mail. When you click on one of these links, we will record that click and certain activities on the Site associated with that link. We use this information to conduct internal research on our users’ demographics and interests, and to better serve you. This information is collected in aggregate form and is not related to your personally identifiable information.

We may use log files to track system activity and maintain our systems. Log data includes IP addresses, browser type, referring and exit pages, platform type, date and time stamps, and number and nature of clicks through our Site. We use this information to analyze usage patterns, observe trends, administer the Site, and gather broad demographic information for aggregate use. Log files are not linked to personally identifiable information.

Personally identifiable information collected by HealthSphere may be stored and processed in the United States or any other country in which HealthSphere or its affiliates, subsidiaries or agents maintain facilities.

Cookies

Cookies are small files that a site or its service provider transfers to your computer’s hard drive through your Web browser (if you allow) that enables the site’s or service provider’s systems to recognize your browser and capture and remember certain information. For instance, we use cookies to help us remember and process the items in your shopping cart. They are also used to help us understand your preferences based on previous or current site activity, which enables us to provide you with improved services. We also use cookies to help us compile aggregate data about site traffic and site interaction so that we can offer better site experiences and tools in the future.

We may contract with third-party service providers to assist us in better understanding our site visitors.

These service providers are not permitted to use the information collected on our behalf except to help us conduct and improve our business.

You can choose to have your computer warn you each time a cookie is being sent, or you can choose to turn off all cookies. You do this through your browser (like Google Chrome or Internet Explorer) settings. Each browser is a little different, so look at your browser Help menu to learn the correct way to modify your cookies. If you turn cookies off, you won't have access to many features that make your site experience more efficient and some of our services will not function properly. Usage of cookies is in no way linked to any personally identifiable information while on our Site.

Third-party Links

Some of our third-party advertisers and ad servers that place and present advertising on the Site also may collect information from you via cookies, web beacons or similar technologies. These third-party advertisers and ad servers may use the information they collect to help present their advertisements, to help measure and research the advertisements' effectiveness, or for other purposes. The use and collection of your information by these third-party advertisers and ad servers is governed by the relevant third-party's privacy policy and is not covered by our Privacy Policy. Indeed, the privacy policies of these third-party advertisers and ad servers may be different from ours. If you have any concerns about a third party's use of cookies or web beacons or use of your information, you should visit that party's website and review its privacy policy.

Children

This children's privacy statement explains our practices with respect to the online collection and use of personal information from children under the age of thirteen, and provides important information regarding their rights under federal law with respect to such information.

This Site is not directed to children under the age of thirteen and we do NOT knowingly collect personally identifiable information from children under the age of thirteen as part of the Site. We screen users who wish to provide personal information in order to prevent users under the age of thirteen from providing such information. If we become aware that we have inadvertently received personally identifiable information from a user under the age of thirteen as part of the Site, we will delete such information from our records. If we change our practices in the future, we will obtain prior, verifiable parental consent before collecting any personally identifiable information from children under the age of thirteen as part of the Site.

Because we do not collect any personally identifiable information from children under the age of thirteen as part of the Site, we also do NOT knowingly distribute such information to third parties. We do NOT knowingly allow children under the age of thirteen to publicly post or otherwise distribute personally identifiable contact information through the Site. Because we do not collect any personally identifiable information from children under the age of thirteen as part of the Site, we do NOT condition the participation of a child under thirteen in the Site's online activities on providing personally identifiable information.

Information Sharing and Disclosure

HealthSphere and its subsidiaries will not share personal information about you with other people or companies except to provide you with the information that you have requested, when we have your permission, or under the following circumstances: HealthSphere may disclose personally identifiable information when we believe that the law requires it, such as in response to subpoenas, court orders, or other legal processes, or to establish or exercise our legal rights or defend against legal claims. In addition, HealthSphere may share information we collect with companies that market our services or with other third parties that assist us with essential services such as data processing or servicing accounts.

The HealthSphere Site may provide hyperlinks to other web sites. Please be aware that when you click on one of those links, you will be directed to a web site different from the HealthSphere Site, even if a HealthSphere logo, banner, or tool bar is still visible. Information you provide on other web sites is subject to collection by those other sites, not HealthSphere. We encourage you to read the privacy statements of those linked sites as their privacy policies may differ from ours.

Security Measures

HealthSphere has adopted security measures to ensure the security and integrity of its customers' personal data. These security measures protect your personally identifiable information from loss, misuse or alteration. When our email alert, information or literature request, or contact forms ask you to enter personally identifiable information, that information is transmitted from your web browser to our servers via the most widely used encryption software – SSL. While on a secure page, such as our information request form, the lock icon on the bottom of Web browsers such as Google Chrome and Microsoft Internet Explorer becomes locked, as opposed to un-locked when you are just 'surfing'.

The servers that store personally identifiable information are in a secure environment, in a locked, guarded facility protected by an array of network, hardware, and software security systems.

Editing or Deleting Account Information

Customers may update their personal information or cancel a previously submitted request for information, at any time, by emailing us at admin @ healthsphere.com or by sending us a letter to HealthSphere, Attn: Administrator, 4120 Cameron Park Dr Ste 201, Cameron Park, CA 95682, USA.

Notification of Changes and Your Acceptance of the Privacy Policy

By using this Site, you signify your agreement to the terms of this Privacy Policy. If there are material changes to our Privacy Policy or if we decide to use personally identifiable information in a manner different from that stated when it was collected, we will post a link to our revised Privacy Policy on our home page so our users are always aware of what information we collect, how we use it, and under what circumstances, if any, we disclose it. Your continued use of this Site shall constitute your acceptance of any revised privacy policy.

Contact Information

If you have any questions regarding this Privacy Policy, or privacy issues in general, please feel free to contact us by email at admin @ healthsphere.com or by mail at HealthSphere, Attn: Administrator, 4120 Cameron Park Dr Ste 201, Cameron Park, CA 95682, USA.
